Purpose: Analyze data, draft idea, assign slides to make and present

Agenda:

- Review the data and observe a common pattern (poor sleep, scheduling issues, forgetting to eat, procrastination)
- Brainstorm solutions to observed patterns of issues.
- Outline Slides
- Split up slides

Major Accomplishments:

- Agreed upon data point to focus on (repeated submissions of poor sleeping habits)
- Planned out a homework related program that will penalize late night submissions and reward homework completed in a timely manner at an appropriate time of day

Next Steps:

- Continue Presentation preparation

Meeting Notes:

Meeting begins at 4:30pm. Ben, Sean, Izzy, Zo in attendance.

Reviewed data reporting from the provided spreadsheets. Noticed common theme of sleep, public speaking, productivity, and teamwork issues. Agreed to present and prototype a way to improve sleep.

Planned a program that rewards timely completion of assignments by giving extra credit if turned in by a certain time (ex. 9:30pm) and lightly penalizes late night submissions (ex. 1am) in order to encourage proactivity and sleep and discourage procrastination.

Group began working on outline for presentation

As a change in presentation of idea after further examination of the data, we all agreed that it would be best to frame our presentation as a solution to time management/procrastination rather than sleep due to their far more frequent appearance in the data. Also, as a group we decided that it wouldn't make sense for students to be penalized for late night submissions.

Ben takes slides 1,2. Sean takes 6,7. Zoe takes 3,4 izzy takes 4,5. Planned on getting raw slides (data, visuals, not polished) done by EOD 2/9/2026. Meeting 2/10/2026 at 6 pm in MECC 136 to polish slides and run.

Fix formatting and visuals of slideshows. Selected images to cut down on wordiness and replace longer paragraphs. Found some images to accompany certain pieces of text.

Rehearsed presentation and fell short of desired time.

Adjusted presentation by adding another slide and altering the contents of some slides and the speech that goes with said slides.
